Rule number/topic	R2120-07 Temporary prohibition on use of credit history for insurance
Comment(s) or question(s)	By restricting the use of credit reports by insurance companies, the cost will increase due to the lack of data for actuaries to properly determine risk for members. The systems has been the standard for years and approved by regulators. By changing the rules you are clearly making race an issue and discriminating against individuals. The process prior did not discriminate but evaluated risk based on their character. I think MLK Jr. Said we should be evaluated by the content of our character as opposed to the color of our skin. The use of credit reports does just that.
