Comment(s) or question(s)

This new law-decision does not take into the effect of consumers like myself that work hard over the years to pay their bills & retain a good credit score.

I was just informed because of this state ban on using my credit score that my car insurance premium for ONE (5 year old vehicle) with low mileage usage, no tickets & no accidents will increase by $405.00 per year. Up from $1056.00 to NOW $1461.00. So up 40%. And that does not even include the increase on my home insurance.

How do you even justify that this is helping consumers during this Pandemic? It will be an impact of $405.00 more out of my pocket & that is frankly NOT acceptable. The majority of the insured are getting screwed over by your poor writing of this law, like myself a middle class hard working consumer.

I have reached out to several insurance companies for quotes & there are not any lower ones out there unless I want to drop my coverage limits way down to bare min. All the insurance companies have told me they were using credit scores but now The State of WA. has axed that!

This law needs to be thrown out or rewritten so the good paying consumers don't get the shaft like we are!
